Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists, of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by Jos. LeCompte.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 6, 1886.

There was a large crowd in town Monday at County Court, and a great deal of stock was on the market, but the prices ruled very low.

The State Council of the Catholic Knights of America will assemble in this city on Tuesday next. Mayor Taylor will deliver an address of welcome to the members of that body at their opening session. The meetings will be held in Weitzel's Hall or the Open House.

The Hermitage Distillery Fire Company is a great protection to the east end of South Frankfort. They are supplied with 800 feet of hose and two reels, and never fail to run out to every fire in that section of the town, and render valuable service wherever they go.

Two young men from Anderson county came to the city on Sunday, and in building to much "soothing syrup," took the wrong road, on their return home, their buggy was upset, the horse ran away, and, in the melee, one of them had his leg broken. The fracture was reduced by one of our physicians and the young man hauled home on a bed.

The tobacco growers of this county held a meeting at the Court House Monday afternoon, which was well attended and was presided over by Hon. Thos. W. Scott. The resolutions of the Owen county growers, which we published in our issue of October 9th, were adopted, with the exception of the 8th, and then the meeting adjourned.

Wallace D. Egbert, Esq., formerly of this city, and more recently of Washington City, D. C., brother to Mr. Chas. T. Egbert, of this county, died in Washington City on Saturday last. He was a first class printer, a genial and companionable gentleman, and his many friends in this city sincerely sympathize with his aged mother and brothers and sister in their bereavement.

Heard on the Street.

First Mechanic, "The Court House is to be repaired and repainted, are you going to bid on the work?"

Second Mechanic, "Not while I can get work for prompt payers."

First Mechanic, "The county is good for it?"

Second Mechanic, "Good for it won't buy materials to do the job or feed the workmen. I can't wait till next year to get the claim allowed and then another year to collect the amount out of next year's levy."

Jake Knights, colored, was at work in a quarry out on the Glen's Creek pike several weeks ago, and having put in a blast, told one of the hands helping him to remove the keg of powder, which he failed to do, and not noticing that the powder was still there, Jake lit the fuse dropped the match and started to run. The match fell into the keg, ignited the powder, and in the explosion that followed Jake was badly burned about the hands and face and had a close call for his life. He is able to be about again now, but his crop of hair will not be as luxuriant and his beauty not as bewitching as formerly.

A Great Revival.

Edward P. Trabue, of Cassville, Kentucky, an enterprising young minister in the Christian Church, who is known in many sections as a stirring evangelist, closed a two weeks' meeting Sunday night at old Macedonia Church, in Woodford county, with 41 additions. Old citizens say this was the greatest revival that has been held in this county for years. Mr. Trabue is a young man of great firmness of character, a strong, vigorous mind, and great fluency of speech. With these priceless qualities he knows no failure. His motto is, "let us go up and possess the land."

The foot bridge on Conway near Third, needs repairing badly. The hand railing is gone in places, and several small children have barely escaped falling through the opening.

Those young men whose "urgent business" took them to the country last week and week before, have all returned and our streets are again ornamented with their smiling countenances.

Mr. W. K. Utterback and Miss Serene Moreland, of this city, went to Louisville Tuesday morning where they were married that afternoon, returned to this city Wednesday evening and have settled down to housekeeping at the residence of his father, on Second street. They were the recipients of many handsome presents from their friends, for which they desire us to return their thanks.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick, D. D., one of the ablest divines in the south and west, delivered, on last Sunday evening, in the Southern Presbyterian Church, the first of a series of lectures on the evidences of Christianity, and will continue them each Sunday evening until completed.

These lectures were delivered by Dr. Hendrick in the city of Paducah several years ago, and before he had gone through with them the interest had increased to such an extent that there was not standing room to be had in the large church in which they were delivered.

As there was nothing sectarian in them they were enjoyed by all denominations. Those who hear one of his lectures will be sure to hear the series through.

All are cordially invited to attend. Seats free.

The election on Tuesday was an exceedingly quiet affair, not one fourth of the votes in this county being polled. Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, for Congress, and W. J. Chinn, Esq., for member of the Board of Equalization having no opposition, a large number of voters forgot that it was election day and never went to the polls.

The following is the vote for this county:

For Congress—W. C. P. Breckinridge, 547. For Member of the Board of Equalization—W. J. Chinn, 558.

Centennial—Thanksgiving.

LET ALL FRANKFORT GIVE THANKS FOR THE CENTENNIAL.

It has been determined to wind up our glorious Centennial by turning over the Centennial Records to the Mayor and Board of Councilmen in a public and formal manner at 3 o'clock on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 25. The ceremonies will take place at the Opera House, commencing at 3 o'clock. This is a pleasing step in winding up so pleasing an enterprise as the Centennial was to all citizens and friends of Frankfort. The Register is still open and some of the statistical reports and historical and poetical contributions are not complete, but they can all be completed by that day. Our people will be in the right frame of mind on that day to make the occasion a real love feast, and put them all in love with themselves and with each other. These valuable records are now held in trust for the use of the city and future generations, and the fact is so rich in historical and scientific facts that the trustee has thought proper to deliver the trust property in this public manner, and we are sure all our people will heartily approve it, and be present to receive a trust containing no less a treasure than the history of Frankfort's first century. The holder of the trust will make a short address in turning it over, to which Mayor Taylor will respond, after which Miss Nannie Browder will read from the records Col. Ford's Ode to the "City of the Dead." The author of the "Drift Pile" will read that quaint production. Miss Nellie Orblson will sing two or three of her sweetest songs, and the whole will wind up in a general love feast and a full chorus by all the musical talent of Frankfort.

BORN.

In this county, on Thursday, November 4th, 1886, to Mr. Wm. Quinn and wife, a son; weight 12 pounds.

ROUNDABOUT--Supplement

FRANKFORT, KY., NOVEMBER 6, 1886.

The election Tuesday was too dry for the boys to take any interest in it.

The South Side Social Club met at Miss Lyde Mangum's on Thursday night.

The furnaces at the Baptist Church have been put in and are working nicely. The usual services will be held there on to-morrow at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 1/2 o'clock p. m.

The Woman's Exchange will be open to-day in the counting-room of the Yeoman Building from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., where will be found a supply of desirable bread, cake, puddings, jellies, etc.

Mr. H. L. Hone, piano tuner for D. H. Baldwin & Co., will be in this city on Monday next. Persons desiring pianos tuned or repair work will please leave orders at No. 345, Main street. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

Mrs. Hannah C. Brawner has received from the Royal Templars of the Order of the Eastern Star, upon the life of her husband, the late Alex. G. Brawner, who was a member of Frankfort Council, No. 7, of that Order.

Col. J. Stoddard Johnston, as Chairman, has called a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee and the State Executive Committee, for the 23d inst., at the Buhr Hotel, to take into consideration the calling of a State Convention to nominate the candidates for Governor and other State officers.

The new jail was completed on Wednesday and will be turned over to the County on Monday by the contractors. The heating apparatus was fired up Wednesday morning and worked all right, showing that the prisoners can be made perfectly comfortable in the coldest weather.

Forks of Elkhorn.

Fox hunters are having fine sport in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar De Joiner are spending a week with us.

Mr. Thomas Hunter, the County Superintendent, was out last week and visited our school.

The potato crop, around Woodlake, is short, a half peck now is worth as much as a bushel was in the early part of the season.

Mr. Kirk Batechamp ran a needle in his thigh last week and is now laid up with severe inflammation resulting therefrom.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Any one desiring to purchase a first class seine, or a No. 1 revolver (at your own price) call at No. 14, South side, Woodlake, Ky.

The wealth and industry, of Woodlake, is well represented by Clubs, Spades and Diamonds which are scattered around the street, and—well never mind. So Simily, the advertising agent of this city, can give all other information required.

Miss Lullie Lee, who has been the guest of Miss Annie Wood for several weeks past, left for her home in Flemingsburg to-day. Miss Lee is one of the most popular and fascinating young ladies that has ever visited this neighborhood, and she leaves behind a host of friends to mourn her departure.

The members of the Woodlake skating rink met and organized last Tuesday evening in the commodious and well arranged hall belonging to Col. Ike Wingate. The beauty and civility of all the neighborhood belong to the organization, and with the gallant Colonel to dispense the hospitalities of the house, nothing is wanting to render every one's enjoyment complete. The club meets every Tuesday and Friday evening and the indications are that it will have a big membership.

At a meeting of the Official Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 1st, 1886, the following action was taken:

WHEREAS, General John Rodman, our brother in the faith of Christ, departed this life in Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24th, 1886,

Resolved, That by his disappearance from the earthly courts and fellowship of God's House, we experience a deep bereavement and recognize that a large figure has been removed from our midst.

Resolved, That we will cherish his memory as a life-long attendant on the services of the church in which he was born and reared, and to which he gave himself by personal commitment in early manhood, and a liberal supporter of its ministry, a firm believer in its doctrines, a lover of its hymnology, and an ardent official, for years, of our local communion.

Resolved, That we express to the bereaved wife and family of our deceased brother our Christian sympathy, and commend them to the grace of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of the Official Board, and a copy of the same be presented to the family of the deceased, and also, that a copy be furnished for publication.

An epicure squab went down from here to the city and spread himself at the last table. After surveying the pile of naked bones he calmly arose and remarked to the landlady that his life was worth something and would just step over to the insurance office a moment.

Franklin County Colored Teachers Institute.

The County Superintendent being absent on some official business, Prof. Wm. H. Mayo, Principal of the Colored Public School of Frankfort, acted in his stead and called the meeting to order, and in a few remarks explained the object of the Institute.

The meeting was opened and Mrs. Ellen Strauss was selected as temporary Chairman, with Miss Annie Patterson as Secretary.

The following ladies, Misses Martha Williams, Martha Hill and Addie L. Greenup were appointed as a Committee on Permanent Organization. The committee reported as follows:

For President, Mrs. Ellen Strauss; Vice President, Miss Maria Tracy; Secretary, Miss Annie Patterson; Assistant Secretary, Miss Sarah Walker; Reporter, Wm. H. Mayo.

The report of the committee was adopted by the Institute and the officers installed.

The following teachers were enrolled as members—District teachers:

Misses Lucy Evans, Maria Tracy, Lizzie Ellis, Sarah Walker, Annie Patterson and Ellen Strauss. Frankfort Public School, Wm. H. Mayo, Misses Ida M. Joyce, Addie L. Greenup, Maria Roxborough, Martha A. Hill, Martha E. Williams, Celia B. Roberson, Lena Taylor and Maggie Taylor.

Private school—Mattie Anderson, Others, Rev. Geo. H. Burks and Miss Sarah L. Smith.

A fine address upon the subject Discipline in School, was delivered by Rev. Geo. H. Burks.

Mr. Thos. B. Ford gave quite an interesting address to the teachers.

The programme being fixed for two days, and it having been found inconvenient for a majority of the teachers to attend the Institute two days, it was decided by the Institute to complete the programme, with the exception of the musical, part on Friday, hence the remainder of the day was spent in practical work.

The lecture upon the study of grammar, delivered by Miss Ida Joyce, was a very fine and interesting lecture. The same was discussed with much interest by Prof. Mayo and others.

The essay, Woman's Influence, by Miss Maria Roxborough, was read with such eloquent grace that the whole Institute was bewitched. She related much credit upon women and the inducements for every woman to educate herself.

The lecture on Arithmetic, by Miss Addie L. Greenup, did honor to herself and also the school in which she has so long been employed as a teacher. This lecture brought about much discussion, in which Capt. Hunter, Principal Mayo, Misses Williams, Joyce, Roxborough, Patterson, Evans and others made excellent points to the best methods of teaching the same.

The lecture upon School discipline by Prof. Mayo, was quite lengthy and gave many practical hints to the teacher; how to maintain good order and good results in the school room.

This Institute being the first of the kind in Franklin county for colored teachers, is considered by all the teachers as only a foundation laid for greater results in the future. It is hoped that the next Institute will extend to a longer session. But in all the teachers had an excellent treat and feel much benefited by this meeting.

ELLEN STRAUSS,
President.

ANNIE PATTERSON,
Secretary.
